Vicki expects $15,000 a month of recurring income

Although I have yet to reach my goal income with YMMSS, I am thrilled with the results so far! Since January of 2004, I have received 14 payments of $320 - a total of $4480 US. I mention the USD since I am in Canada - so the USD is worth even more to us!

With the current cycle time of approximately 70 days, I can count on 9 commission payments of $320 for each month of June and July. And, if no unforeseen expenses arise within the next several month, I expect to be making about $15,000 monthly by January 2005.

What is so fantastic is that $15,000 monthly is 100% recurring - it will simply keep coming to me month after month after month.

Certainly, that will be enough for my husband and I both to retire on. It will be enough to pay off all our debts - even our mortgage. It will be enough to add some serious cash to our daughters' college funds. It will be enough to allow us to travel some. It will be enough for us to live quite comfortably. And we are only in our early 40's.

Like 99% of our members, I have tried dozens of internet opportunities. Many, I later found out, were unstable HYIP's that disappeared overnight with my cash. Many required that I spend hours everyday promoting and sponsoring before I made anything more than a few dollars. Many simply didn't work as they promised. What they all had in common is they allowed us to hope and dream for better financial futures, and they let us down. As a results, I think so many people on the internet have lost hope.

YMMSS will restore your hope in becoming debt free. It will allow you to dream again - and dream big. It will give you faith in people again as our members are the best out there - always willing to help each other. It will make you a positive person again as so many of us became negative with our online experiences. All of this even before the payments start coming in because you can see it on the the bulletin board and in the discussion groups. You know your turn will come too - again and again.

I can be contacted by email to verify this testimonial, and show proof of payments received.

Blessings,
